

SOUTH VIETNAM FORCES SCORE 2 MAJOR WINS

By MALCOLM M. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese forces using decisive airpower scored two major victories over the Communist Viet Cong in the past two days, killing more than 100 Red guerrillas and wounding or capturing hundreds more, officials of President Ngo Dinh Diem's government said today.

U.S. Army helicopters with American crews supported the follow-up of one operation and U.S.-supplied fighter bombers provided the knockout punch for the other, the officials said.

The reported military successes are understood to be South Viet Nam's biggest of the year. They followed closely on three straight setbacks for Diem's pro-Western government.

Government ground forces following up a strike by the South Viet Nam air force in Phuoc Thanh Province found 60 Viet Cong bodies Monday. They estimated at least 240 more Communist guerrillas were wounded in the attack by the single-engine propeller planes Sunday.

Phuoc Thanh and parts of surrounding provinces are classified by the Communists as a liberated area long under their domination and relatively free of government control.

BOARD TO HEAR SMITH APPEAL

The State Board of Pardons has set March 21 to hear an appeal for clemency by Elmo Lee Smith, the Bridgeport handyman scheduled to die the night of April 2 for the mutilation murder of Maryann Theresa Mitchell.

The board announced Monday it would hear Smith's appeal and those of 16 other convicted killers at the State Office Building in Philadelphia. All the other murder appeals are for commutation of life sentences and involve men from the Philadelphia area. Smith's case will be heard first, at 9 a.m., on March 21.

Smith was convicted Sept. 1, 1960, by a jury in the Adams County court, and the panel set the penalty at death the following day after deliberating less than an hour. Sentence was passed by Judge W. C. Sheely on Feb. 23, 1961, and the State Supreme Court subsequently turned down Smith's appeal of a reversal of the conviction and a new trial.

Storm

feeder electric lines were down and emergency crews were called from Reading to assist in restoring power.

REA CRIPPLED
The Adams Rural Cooperative reported a complete breakdown. A spokesman said that the crews of fifteen men and ten contractors were called out early this morning when calls started pouring into the office as early as 4 o'clock.

"We are completely down. Power is out all over our system and we have no idea when we will be able to restore service," the spokesman said. The extent of the damage has not been estimated.

John Caldwell, manager of the United Telephone Company, said "poles, wires, everything" are down and the trouble is general throughout the county.

He said closed roads are hampering the repair work which began at dawn today. He was unable to estimate how many telephones may be out of service but asked persons whose phone service is cut off to notify the telephone company. "Unless the phones are reported out of service, we have no way of knowing that repair work is needed," he added.

ROAD CREWS BUSY
The State Highway Department reported about 11 a.m. that "we seem to be getting ahead of it finally." Superintendent Clyde Garber said 120 men, 40 trucks, eight graders and a bulldozer are plowing highways but many rural roads may not be opened until evening.

"One of our big problems," Garber said, "is with fallen trees and utility poles and lines. Where power lines are down, our plows can't go through." The highway department workmen had started spreading anti-skid material early Monday evening and then as the snow accumulated, plows were sent out.

At McSherrystown firemen were called out about 11:30 Monday night when power lines went down near Delone Catholic High School. Some residents of the town reported no heat, and no way to make breakfast because of the power failure. Drifts three feet deep were reported in the McSherrystown area.

A report from York Springs to the Quick Call Center here at 4:50 this morning showed power off in that community at that time.

In the midst of the storm there was one consoling indication that spring is on the way regardless. Mrs. Dale Guise, Biglerville, saw 30 wild geese headed north Monday night.

Sheely Presides At Chambersburg

The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board (PLRB) is under an order in the Franklin County courts to show cause why it should not be held in contempt of court and be punished "as justice may require."

The rule was granted by Judge W. C. Sheely, of Adams County, specially presiding, after counsel for the Modern Home Appliance Co., 301 S. Main St., declared the PLRB was acting in defiance of an order of court previously handed down by Judge Chauncey M. DePuy.

In granting the rule of the State agency, Judge Sheely directed that an answer be filed in ten days. He also issued a rule on the PLRB directing it to show cause why a writ of prohibition should not be issued, directing that the agency be barred from further actions against Modern Home Appliance Co. until current appeals are disposed of. The writ of prohibition also would bar the PLRB from causing "any disorder or irregularity in proceedings" now before it involving the South Main Street firm.

FILM OF GLENN FLIGHT SHOWN AT "PREVIEW"

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — You watch astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. squeeze space food into his mouth as he hurtles over Africa. You see his exultant smile as he emerges into dawn. You see the light grow to almost blinding intensity as he comes down in his fireball ride to the sea.

It's all in a remarkable film taken inside his Friendship 7 capsule while he made his historic triple orbit of the earth Feb. 20.

The movie got a sneak preview Monday in a darkened hearing room on Capitol Hill. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it soon will be available for public viewings.

COLOR FILM

The close-up color film of Glenn's trip—from donning his space suit through excellent views of the capsule's recovery by the destroyer Noa—gives new excitement and immediacy to the now oft-told tale.

You are with Glenn as he experiences the heavy forces in the takeoff. You see the straps of his space suit floating freely in the air as the astronaut becomes weightless.

You watch as Glenn lifts his face plate and takes space food from a plastic bottle as he crosses Africa on the first orbit.

There is a perceptible bump or jerk as the retro rockets fire to slow the capsule for its re-entry into the atmosphere. The light grows to almost blinding intensity as Glenn plunges to the sea, the most critical part of the journey.

The film, hastily edited down to 32 minutes by NASA, was shown without sound track NASA official George Low provided a narrative for the standing room audience of congressmen and congressional workers.

Physician Gets Mobile Dispensary

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — This city's automobile firms have given Dr. Carl van Aswegen what he calls "the greatest gift I ever received."

It is a mobile dispensary which the doctor will use to carry stocks of medicine into the Maluti Mountains of Basutoland, a British protectorate where "white man's healing" is largely unknown.

It is estimated there are more than 250,000 Basutos living in the mountains, which cover two-thirds of Basutoland. They contain no towns, no railways and few roads.

HAS 4 CLINICS

Dr. Van Aswegen, now 35, started his practice there in 1959. He started a small mission hospital and later added four clinics which can be reached by jeep track and three other remote clinics accessible only by air. His staff includes three African doctors, six African nurses, eight dispensers and four clerks.

'FAITH HEALERS' ANALYZED
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Lutheran medical missionary, Dr. Kristofer Hagen, says that "practically 100 per cent of the so-called 'cures' claimed by faith healers or shrines" either involve nonorganic illnesses or dishonest "cures."

"Medical history," he writes, "is full of supposedly cured" diabetics who quit their insulin and died, of supposedly "cured" appendicitis cases that "needed no operation" and later died, of supposed "cured" cancer patients who went right on and died." Excerpts of his book "Faith and Health" were carried by "The Lutheran," a church weekly here.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The last vestiges of organized religion in Russia will be crushed within 25 to 50 years by persecution, the Rev. Louis A. Dion, of Worcester, Mass., a Roman Catholic chaplain formerly stationed in Moscow, predicted in an address here.

Aswegen founded Basomedi-Basutoland Socio-Medical Services to accept donations for his work. He had been operating with public donations, mostly from Britain and America, and with gifts from Dr. Albert Schweitzer's mission in Kenya.

French Blonde Will Teach U.S. Women How To Caddy

EDITOR'S NOTE — Girl caddies are a common sight on many foreign golf courses, but how would they fare in this country? It's a question that might be settled soon on Florida fairways — and a homespun little French girl could be the deciding factor.

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Francoise Pellegrino Autiero, whose nose shines almost as radiantly as her brown eyes, is in this country teaching the fine points of caddying to a handful of girls at a Miami resort.

The sturdy little blonde, a bride of a few months, shrugs off these possible handicaps:

Will the red-blooded American male let a slip of a girl pack his heavy golf bag on her shoulders? Will he let himself be distracted by a shapely feminine presence?

Will her advice on the right club seem like displaced backseat driving just when he may be trying to throw off mother-wife domination?

CADDIES WEAR NO MAKEUP

The .nen Francoise is used to caddying for in Antibes on the French Riviera are good golfers interested only in playing a low-scoring game. They include Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, for whom she's caddied for five years, Bing Crosby, the Duke of Windsor, Danny Kaye.

Besides, the French girl caddies — as numerous on fairways as boys — put on little or no makeup, never wear French shorts (of bikini-brevity) and usually play a good game of golf themselves. Francoise consistently shoots in the low 80s; her best game is 78.

MEN EASIER CADDY FOR

"Women are generally better caddies than men because they're more diplomatic and can put players at their ease," says the 23-year-old Francoise.

On the other hand, she thinks men are easier to caddy for than women, who are too — what she calls — "maniac" about their game, always wanting to know why they missed a putt and, if else fails, blaming the caddy for coughing at the critical second.

Francoise, who learned some English, mostly golf terms, from her clients, will teach girl caddies at Doral Country Club in Miami carriage and demeanor toward clients, how to be as polite and helpful as possible.

As for mannie mashers, "women can usually handle men with a police brushoff." Of course, if all else fails, "you can always throw down your clubs and stalk off."

Francoise's never had to. She may be only about 5 foot 3, 115 pounds, but she has a no-nonsense air about her that discourages links lotharios.

NOT SOPHISTICATED

The trip to America is her first time outside the Maritime Alps region where she was born. While being a small-town girl from Antibes probably isn't exactly like being a small-town girl from Pretty Parrie, Kan., Francoise doesn't seem any more sophisticated.

She's never been to Paris, she's not familiar with the names of the famous French designers. She doesn't see anything particularly unusual in the fact she keeps her 22-year-old husband Lucien happy he married her last fall while she takes care of a two-story house without help; does all the laundry without a washing machine; cooks all meals ("I love to cook because I love to eat"); mothers two young sisters, aged 10 and 16, whom she has raised since their mother died seven years ago; makes most of her own clothes, caddies fulltime six

HUSBAND DOESN'T GOLF

Mondays she and Lucien take off from work and go to the cinema. She confesses shyly, while she squeezes his hand adoringly, that she thinks he looks like her favorite actor, Jerry Lewis.

Lucien, who operates a fish market, doesn't much like golf, although Francoise tried hard to teach him the game. "He's too concerned with business," she says admiringly.

But he did take off a few weeks to accompany her to America.

In New York before going on to Miami, the couple stopped to see the sights: he the Fulton Street fish market, she the Statue of Liberty — "she's French too, you know."

Lucien explains his views about his bride caddying for rich, often distinguished, men: "I am not jealous. I have confidence in my wife and" — he adds with Gallic practicality — "it's a good living."

GOOD TIPPER

Francoise makes about $4 a round, usually gets in at least two a day. Americans are the best tippers, she says.

She became a caddy at 16 to make pocket money for school. Some girl caddies may meet rich husbands on the golf course. But she met hard-working Lucien at a dance in Antibes three years ago. Love hit, she says through an interpreter, "like a bolt of lightning." Their engagement lasted through his 18 months of military service and they were married last September.

Joseph Kennedy, who once jokingly told Francoise she was prettier than Brigitte Bardot, visited her on the morning of the wedding to offer best wishes. He didn't stay for the ceremony.

Kennedy, her favorite golfer, is the most consistent player she knows, varying only a stroke or two in shooting 18 holes in the low 70s.

Danny Kaye is a very good golfer, but serious — "not funny at all" — on the course. Bing Crosby is not only a good golfer, but very funny.

The Duke of Windsor plays a fine game, and — paying him her highest compliment, she adds — "he's a very simple man."

Singer Manages Baseball Team

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The voice development Irene Day acquired as featured singer with Gene Krupa's band is helping her in another field.

Now the wife of bandleader Charlie Spivak, Irene is manager of a South Miami Khoury League baseball team.

Whereas she once had "to belt it out to get above the drums," now Irene belts out instructions to the youngsters on her team. Spivak had been asked to manage the team, which includes their son Chuck, 7. Unable to fit the job in his busy schedule, Spivak turned it over to Irene.

CAN KEE SCORE

"What I knew about the game you could put in a thimble," Irene admits. "But boy, this summer I learned. I can even keep a scorebook — hits, runs, errors."

The managerial chores include incidental tasks such as helping the youngsters keep from losing their loose fitting pants, treating bruised knees, and tying shoe laces.

Irene went to work for Spivak's band in 1944, married Spivak in 1950 and retired.

"I was a lady of leisure — until I started managing a baseball team," she laughs.

WILD GUNMAN WOUNDS PAIR

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP) — A berserk gunman wounded two persons in a barber shop in nearby Madera Monday, then surrendered meekly to police after being cornered in a house.

Some 400 high school students were kept late in a nearby school during the tense, hectic episode. Later, they were ushered out a back door.

The gunman was identified as Max Richards, 47, of Madera.

Thomas Stodart, 76, of Madera, a customer in the barber shop, was wounded in the back and taken to Philipsburg State Hospital in serious condition.

Barber Howard Poller, 61, suffered a minor hand wound. He was treated at the hospital and released.

Police said Richards entered the barber shop and let loose with a .25 caliber automatic pistol, then dashed out of the shop, jumped into a car and backed about 500 yards to his home. The car ended up about 100 feet from Madera High School.

Mrs. Vaughn Neveling, operator of a drug store, said she saw Richards leaving the shop and reloading his pistol. She ran into the barber shop, saw what happened and telephoned for an ambulance and police.

FIFTY-YEARS AGO

Minister Drops Dead In Chair:
Rev. Philip W. Group, one of the best known residents of the upper end of the county, dropped dead at his home in Idaville about half past four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Group had shown no signs of illness and was sitting in a chair at his home when he suddenly fell over, dying instantly. Heart failure is given as the cause of his death.

He was a native of Adams county and lived in this county a large portion of his life. For the past nineteen years he had been a minister of the Evangelical church and served churches at Idaville, Carlisle, New Kingston and other places in the Cumberland Valley.

Town To Clean House May 1:
Gettysburg will have a municipal house cleaning day on May 1, in compliance with action taken at Tuesday evening's meeting of the town council following a request of a number of ladies of the town, presented through Mr. Butt.

The idea is one which has been successfully carried out in a large number of cities and towns and has always met with general approval and resulted in ridding the places of a great accumulation of rubbish. The plan is to have every citizen clean up in front of their homes, their back yards, their gardens and all about their premises.

The Successful Spring Sales:
The sales now being held throughout the county are reported as largely attended, prices are good and the sale season is one of the most generally observed that has taken place in this county for many years.

The best sale yet held near Gettysburg took place on Friday at the farm of John M. Blocher and Prof. Charles H. Huber in Straban township. The sale amounted to $3004.50 and the attendance was about 500.

Basket Prevented Injury:
A large market basket saved Esther Lerew, York Springs, from serious injury one day recently. The girl, who is about nine years old, was standing in front of the shed at the Central Hotel, that place, watching her father, J. L. Lerew, repair a gasoline engine when one of the large sliding doors blew off the track and fell on her. She was standing beside a large basket of groceries which Mr. Lerew had just purchased and when the door was tossed over by the wind the little girl was thrown beside the basket. When the door was raised Esther was found to be only slightly injured while the basket was a wreck.

Have Gone To Visit Slums:
To obtain an insight into the religious work of Philadelphia, and to visit points of interest, thirteen members of the Senior class of the Theological Seminary went to that city Friday evening. While there the students will be the guests of Messiah Lutheran Church, of which Rev. Daniel E. Weigle is pastor.

Restrictions Removed From Postal Banks:
Postmaster C. Wm. Beales has been advised by the United States postoffice department that the restriction which permitted only residents of this town to deposit postal savings at the Gettysburg post office has been removed and he is authorized to open accounts with any person who makes application. This will enable patrons of any of the county post offices to enjoy the privileges of the new system, which is growing in popularity.

Today's Talk

SYMPATHY

The warmest place in the human body is the heart — because it's the engine room. It's the most interesting place, too.

Whenever I have been on a boat I have always liked to go down to the engine room and watch the powerful wheels go around. And before falling off to sleep I would think of them down there doing their great stunt in taking me to my destination.

I often put my hand over my heart to hear, or rather to feel its beat. I think of the activity there and then I think of all that I carry around in there—warmth, my choice friends, and all the hopes of an aspiring life.

Sympathy is born in the heart. Without sympathy in the heart it would soon run cold and it couldn't beat any longer. Life would be over.

That which discourages or drives away sympathy is as the cold wind and frost which bite away all the buds and kill the unborn flowers. Sympathy is essential to life, to beauty and to happiness.

Love is the flower of sympathy. The kinder and gentler we are to those we love, the more we love them. And the nearer they become to us. To have a sympathetic heart is to own an estate of love.

We cannot always give what we desire to those we love, but we can always give our sympathy and thus draw near to them in all their activities, all their aspirations and all their troubles.

Big people are always sympathetic because they have big hearts.

Sympathy needs room.

SHROVE TUESDAY

'Tis Shrove Tuesday, maid and lad,
For the moment be you glad!
Cook with spoon and bowl begin
To prepare the pancake thin!
Let these hours with joy be spent,
For tomorrow cometh Lent!

Merry-make and dance and sing!
Now with pleasure take your fling,
Sound the pipe and beat the drum,
Soon the days of penance come.
Feast unto the heart's content,
For tomorrow cometh Lent!

'Tis Shrove Tuesday, Pancake Day!
Pour the syrup and be gay!
Take these few brief hours for mirth
On this sad and troubled earth.
Take this day for merriment,
For tomorrow cometh Lent!

Name Personnel For CD Classes

HARRISBURG (AP)—A coordinator and two consultants have been named for an adult civil defense education course which the state expects to begin in September.

Public Instruction Superintendent Charles H. Boehm announced over the weekend that Harry J. Mier Jr., Camp Hill, was named coordinator and Melvin Free, Hanover, and Mrs. Eleanor Bennett, Mechanicsburg, were named program consultants.

It is expected, Boehm said, that a corps of certified teachers trained in the program will be ready to conduct the adult classes by September.

He said two counties—Philadelphia and Fayette—have agreed to cooperate in training the nucleus of certified teachers. Pittsburgh school officials are considering similar classes, Boehm said.

The program currently calls for 12 hours of public instruction, the time to be determined by school district administrators.

If you've had a lot of bread leftover and have made crumbs of it, store the crumbs in your freezer to prevent staling.

The current edition of The American Legion magazine publishes a piece on the Antietam Battlefield, 100 years ago. It bemoans the fact that a scant 183 of the 2,400-acre battlefield is owned by the government.

The Self explanatory article follows:

"Right now — almost 100 years after the bloodiest dawn-to-dusk battle in American history — the National Park Service holds only 183 acres of a total national historic site of prime importance which Maryland's Hagerstown Daily Mail estimates at 'more than 2,400 acres.'"

The rest is privately owned land, mostly farm — but with increasing pressure on it for modern development.

In 1960, only two years away from the 100th anniversary of the clash of Lee and McClellan at Antietam Creek, Congress recognized the pressure of Washington suburbia on the battlefield land, and authorized the National Park Service to obtain 600 more acres of the battlefield outright.

The 600 acres still won't put the whole battlefield into National Park hands. It would turn the Swiss Cheese into a sort of checkerboard, and continue to pose a dilemma of land-purchase.

Stretched over the battlefield's whole area are key sites long distances apart. On the north, the farm, where Clara Barton's work among the wounded 100 years ago gained her the first official recognition on her road to the later creation of the American Red Cross. And the "Corn Field" where men and corn alike were mowed down in rows by artillery.

Farther south, the famous Bloody Lane, and farther south yet, Burnside's Bridge, all lying between long, low ridges, Gettysburg style, where opposing artillery spat death and McClellan (east) and Lee (west) were headquartered. And all between, the land where, from dawn to dusk of Sept. 17, 1862, North and South suffered more than 23,000 casualties. How spread a 600-acre purchase around to encompass all these things?

The Park Service turned first to the Red Cross, to see if it could buy most of the acres of the farm associated with Clara Barton if the Park Service bought the most important ones — thus leaving it more of the 600-acre limit to apply to other areas of the battlesite.

But restrictions on Red Cross funds prevent such land purchase.

Then, the Antietam American Legion Post got wind of the problem and volunteered to do all it could. At last summer's state convention, the American Legion Department of Maryland approved the Antietam Post's project, and made the acquisition of battlefield land a state American Legion project.

The first $1,000 was appropriated from Maryland Legion funds, and a fund-committee was set up, composed of present and former state and national Legion officials in Maryland.

As things stand now, the Maryland American Legion will spend all it can afford itself, and all it can raise from other sources, to secure Antietam acreage over and above the National Park's 600-acre authorization and present it to the Park Service as a gift to the nation.

It is the Maryland Legion's hope that at the time of the ceremonies marking the 100th anniversary of the Antietam battle next Sept. 17 it will have land or firm options sufficient to secure the entire battlefield for the nation forever.

Let's Look At The Record

QUESTIONS, ALWAYS QUESTIONS
Who Uses Our Educational Manpower?
How Much? For Whom? How Good? Why?

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

NEVER in the history of American education were so many questions asked as now. Never before have so much time and money been spent in trying to find all the answers.

The answers to some seem quite obvious. But when one gives that obvious answer, he is immediately hit on the head with more questions: How much? How good? Who? Why?

Sometimes these shorties leave one staggering. The Council for Financial Aid to Colleges posed the query: Who uses our educational manpower? The answer to that one used to be easy and went something like this: The schools and colleges, in order to turn out more educated manpower.

But that answer merely led the council to query: Who else and what other activities are the beneficiaries of this public service from supported and endowed colleges and universities? The "who else?" is quite easy and can be answered off the cuff. Obviously they are the alumni on the job. The doctors, teachers, clergymen, technicians and researchers making use of their own knowledge and skills to hold a job or get a job done.

The "what other activities?" immediately leads to vague generalities and glittering nebulosities. It was the purpose of the council to arrive at specifics for this part of the question. It turned out to be a job for the Univac.

I THINK the Univac is still fighting the problem, but meanwhile we have the council's partial answer, based upon findings from graduates of only 83 representative colleges and universities.

Even with this limited number, "alumni sampling" (every fifth year since 1910) was necessary because of the large numbers of graduates of such universities as U. of Cal., at Berkeley. Even so, 470,882 "samples" representing 1,996,154 alumni of the 83 representative colleges and universities should be enough to reveal general practices and substantial trends. Data concerning women graduates are considered more inconclusive than for men.

Many are housewives; and no one can throw a questionnaire in the ash can with more freedom and abandon than a lady with a dust cloth. It is a freedom every college president envies. A part of the administrative overhead of every college and university will soon include a vice president in charge of statistics and questionnaires, if the current Univac and machine records menace is not abated.

ELIMINATING the "in-the-home" employment of the 54,657 housewives who were gracious enough to park the dust cloth and fill out the questionnaire, but including all other women graduates, the statisticians arrived at the following conclusions:

More than 47 per cent are employed by business and industry. With the housewives included in the grand total, this percentage is reduced to 41.8 per cent. Only 15.6 per cent go into teaching and educational work.

The other professions, law, medicine, etc., account for 22 per cent; government service, 6.4 per cent. The percentage of farmers and ranchers is 1.3 and others self-employed in sundry activities are 1.3 per cent. Housewives are 11.7 per cent.

IT IS a well known fact that college graduates have a habit of promoting and employing other college graduates when other factors and credentials are approximately the same for the several men under consideration.

Perhaps with such thought in mind and to gauge a trend, the researchers on this project decided to take a hard look at the two top executives in "each of the Largest One Hundred Manufacturing Corporations Listed for 1958 by the First National City Bank of New York." A comparison was then made with the two top men for the same list as of 1953.

In the latter year 25 per cent, or 50, of the 200 top executives had never been in college. By 1958, that percentage had shrunk to 13.5 per cent. But 30 of the 173 who had been in college did not graduate. Of the 143 who did graduate to a bachelor's degree or higher, 67 took the B.A.; 45 the B.Sc.; eight others took such baccalaureates as philosophy and literature; 18 took engineering baccalaureates and five received "miscellaneous bachelor's degrees."

Of the foregoing, 44 earned graduate or professional degrees beyond the bachelor, distributed as follows: Law, 25; master's, 16, and doctorates, four. In the nonmanufacturing, large corporations, the trend toward college graduates, with much heavier emphasis beyond the bachelor degree, appears to be stronger.

THE BURDEN of the council's final conclusion was that both graduates of colleges and their employing corporations were doing quite well from the current educational boom.

Moreover, the employers and the graduates might well help their colleges and universities with endowments and bequests. The return might be slow and indirect, but the ultimate yield would indeed be great if the growing challenge to higher education is properly met.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The flu is nothing to laugh at, but smiling can help you get well faster. Patients with a cheerful attitude and high morale recuperate more quickly than those who are sad and depressed.

If you looked at the earth through a telescope on the moon, it is said, the only man-made thing visible would be the great wall of ancient China—or maybe a few Sunday traffic jams.

8-TON PLOWS

One reason for the kimono: Japanese women traditionally dislike showing their knees, which they consider ungraceful. They prefer men to look at their faces, not their legs.

Early attempts to mechanize agriculture were pretty cumbersome. The first power-driven plow, built in 1859, weighed eight tons, cost $10,000, and required a crew of four farmers. But the mule quit hee-hawing when the tractor was invented.

How they got started: Boris Karloff was a farmhand in Canada; Charlton Heston, a choir boy; Ethel Merman, a stenographer.

PRICE OF FAT

Our quotable notables: "Marriage resembles a pair of shears, so joined that they cannot be separated; often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing anyone who comes between them."—Sydney Smith.

Another price of fat: 82 per cent of diabetics are overweight.

Invisible slaves: Scientists are trying to harness the energy of bacteria. They hope someday to use these tiny one-celled animals to make electrical power from garbage, and to operate submarines more cheaply than by nuclear energy.

HATS IN HOUSE

Three centuries ago hats were commonly worn in the house—because of lack of proper heating. Samuel Pepys wrote in his famous diary: "September, 1664, got a severe cold because I took off my hat at dinner."

Wisecrack of the week: "Gals used to marry for better or worse—now it's for more or less."—Arnold H. Glasow.

Can you name two presidents who were married on their birthdays?

They were John Tyler, at 23, and Theodore Roosevelt, at 22. Both later became widowers and remarried.

EYE MORE SENSITIVE

You react more to what you see than what you hear. The human eye is 16 times as sensitive as the human ear.

Unequal rights: Socrates, often called the wisest man who ever lived, long ago saw the danger of trying to legislate equality between the sexes: "Once made equal to man, woman becomes his superior."

Nature notes: The Gecko lizard has a tongue so long it uses it to wash its own eyes. Earth's largest meat eating animal is the Alaskan brown bear. You can tell elephants apart by how they sleep: The African elephant invariably sleeps standing up, the Indian elephant lying down.

It was Ralph Waldo Emerson who observed, "The end of the human race will be that it will eventually die of civilization."

100 Years Ago This Week...in

THE CIVIL WAR

(Events exactly 100 years ago this week that led to the Civil War—told in the language and style of today.)

Union Troops Occupy City of Nashville, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 28—The bloodless occupation of this Southern metropolis was completed today, with Union troops under Brig. Gen. Don Carlos Buell in full command.

The invaders poured into the undefended city as its 30,000 inhabitants watched dourly. Fresh from rousing victories at Fort Donelson and Fort Henry, some 70 miles northwest on the Cumberland and Tennessee Rivers, the Union troops presented a smart, orderly appearance.

The occupation ended days of unrest, rioting and looting in Nashville, one of the last Tennessee strongholds for the south.

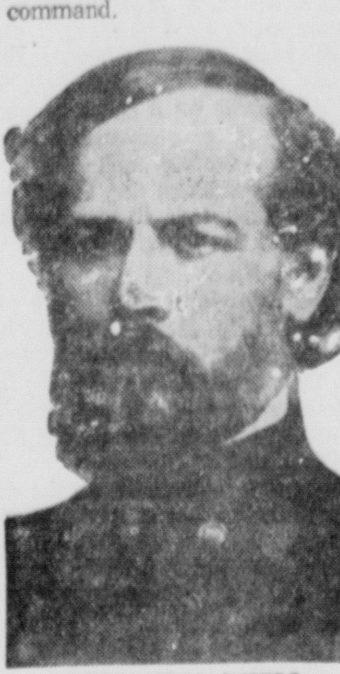

AS DID other cities, Nashville launched a big celebration two weeks ago after the false report that Southern forces had been victorious at Fort Donelson. Actually, the rebels lost 2,000 men there.

When word of the fort's surrender hit town, the citizens began to flee in the belief that Brig. Gen. U. S. Grant was advancing swiftly. Southern defense forces pulled out at once, on order of Maj. Gen. William J. Hardee, their commander.

Gov. Isham G. Harris and other state officials left for Memphis with a trainload of official papers.

The hysteria reached its peak with survivors of the Fort Donelson rout, led by Brig. Gens. Gideon Pillow and John B. Floyd, arrived with terrifying stories of bloodthirsty Union troops in hot pursuit.

Col. Nathan Bedford Forrest and his cavalry, also in retreat from Fort Donelson, finally restored order. Forrest directed the shipment of vital military goods to other Southern cities.

AS A PARTING defense move, Col. Forrest ordered destruction of the city's two bridges across the Cumberland.

Nashville is the first Southern capital to be seized by Union forces. Tennessee was the last of the secessionist states to leave the Union and pro-North sentiment still is felt by many of its citizens.

New U.S.S. "Monitor" Ready for Sea

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 3—Extensive preparations were being made today for the departure from this port of the U.S.S. Monitor, the Union Navy's first ironclad man of war.

The 172-foot vessel, launched five weeks ago after a whirlwind 16-week construction period, carries two 11-inch guns housed in armored turrets. It has a 41-foot beam and a 10-foot draft.

Its construction was ordered after Union officials learned of Confederate plans to launch an ironclad as a blockade runner.

The Southern ship, the Merrimack, is a 3,500-ton, 40-gun Union frigate that was scuttled last spring when Union forces were swept out of Norfolk.

GENE FREESE SNAPS ANKLE IN PRACTICE

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the National League champion Cincinnati Reds is faced with his first on-the-field crisis today when he must try to find a replacement for slugging third baseman Gene Freese.

Freese broke an ankle in the Reds' intra-squad game Monday. Hutchinson indicated that he would give rookie Cliff Cook the chance to take over.

Not only is Hutch on the spot, but Cook is walking into a lions den.

HAS FLUNKED TWICE

The 25-year old infielder already has flunked two tests with the Reds, but may just have been a slow starter. He was voted the American Association's Most Valuable Player last year, playing for Indianapolis, where he batted .311 and slammed 32 home runs.

Cook's home run potential will be needed to compensate for the loss of the 28-year-old Freese. Doctors say he will miss the first two months of the season. Freese had his finest major league season in helping the Reds to the pennant. He hit .277, slammed 26 homers and drove in 87 runs after being acquired from the Chicago White Sox.

SANFORD SIGNS

Pitchers Jack Sanford and Pete Ramos felt interested enough about the coming season to sign their contracts Monday. Sanford signed at San Francisco's Phoenix, Ariz., camp for a reported $25,000, a token raise for his 13-9 record, and Ramos, of Washington ended his holdout by taking a slight cut from the $20,000 he got a year ago. Ramos had an 11-20 American League record and led in gopher balls with 39.

Pitcher Bob Belinsky of the Los Angeles Angels signed for the major league minimum of $6,000 which will be boosted to $7,000 if he still is with the team 30 days after the season begins. He had protested that he was being treated unfairly by the Angels.

Girl Scout News

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 775 held its meeting Monday evening in Xaxier hall. Plans were made for decorating the Renovation window for Girl Scout Week. Girls were asked to meet at 8:30 in the Red room in Xavier hall on Sunday to attend mass in a group. It was announced that there was no meeting next Monday, but will meet on Thursday, March 15, at 3:30 to go for practice for the Girl Scout rally which will be held on Saturday, March 17.

Girls were reminded to wear their uniforms during Girl Scout Week. Leaders present were Mrs. Jay P. Brown, Mrs. Romeo M. Capozzi and Vicki Shetter was the senior aide.

The three B58 crewmen—Capt. Robert Sowers, 35, Lexington, Ky., pilot; Capt. Robert MacDonald, 35, Cresskill, N. J., navigator; and Capt. John Walton, 29, Greenville, Ky., defense systems operator—were awarded Distinguished Flying Crosses. They also captured the 1962 Bendix trophy.

Said pilot Sowers: "If a cannonball—an artillery shell—had been fired at the same time we left here, we'd have had time to land in New York and have lunch before it got there."

The average speed going east was 1,212 miles an hour. Going west, against headwinds, it was 1,091 miles an hour.

Famous Mailbox Is Restored By Court

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—When Caleb Gibson nailed his mailbox to an oak tree 40 years ago, he had no idea it would wind up as a sort of monument on the lawn of the Ouachita County Courthouse here.

Gibson braced the mailbox to the tree with a two-by-four. The tree continued to grow, enveloping most of the board and about eight inches of the mailbox.

Gibson died several years ago, but two of his sons still received mail in the box until a county road crew cut down the tree to make room for a wider road.

County Judge Milas Reynolds thought the oddity should be preserved and he ordered the tree sawed off neatly and set on the courthouse lawn.

In the dented metal mailbox are several small rifle holes signs of 40 years' wear and tear on a country road.

District Play off Here On Thursday

York High School's 44-34 triumph over Reading for the Central Pennsylvania League title Monday evening has made certain that the Gettysburg floor will be the site for the District 3, Class A playoff game between Carlisle and Waynesboro here Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

It was previously announced that had Reading triumphed the site for the Carlisle-Waynesboro game would be switched to the Hershey arena for a doubleheader Thursday.

Carlisle swept through a 21-game season unbeaten and captured the South Penn League title. Waynesboro, 16-5, was selected as an independent and on the basis of its fine season record.

WOMAN FINDS SKYDIVING IS GREAT HOBBY

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (AP)—Once Judy Simpson tumbled from an airplane and landed on a cow.

It turned out to be a rather uneventful experience—for the cow. Judy is sure the animal stopped giving milk for weeks.

Miss Simpson—pretty, petite and 25—is one of the country's few ladybirds, a practitioner of the art of skydiving. When she's not tumbling out of airplanes at 12,500 feet, she works as an advertising copywriter in New York City.

Two years ago she saw a skydiving exhibition, liked what she saw and enrolled for lessons. She is now licensed to fly single-engine planes, is licensed by the Parachute Club of America and is a member of the Tri-State Skydivers Club. The latter club, which has 90 men and 10 women from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, is believed to be the largest civilian skydiving group in the country.

How do you skydive?

CAN'T DO UP
When the plane, usually traveling 80 m.p.h., reaches 12,500 feet Judy bales out, drops 10,000 feet (about two miles), then pulls the ripcord on the parachute.

Once freed of the plane, the fun begins.

"Actually we can do anything an airplane can do except gain altitude," she said. Somersaults and spins are all part of the skydiving game. So is falling at the rate of 100 miles per hour on the first 10,000 feet of her journey.

At 2,500 feet, she begins to fall softly to earth, just "like a big bird."

Practice has brought proficiency. She has made more than 125 dives and now hits targets with uncanny accuracy. Except for the cow and a couple of times when she became tangled in trees, there have been no close calls.

Practically she can do anything an airplane can do except gain altitude," she said. Somersaults and spins are all part of the skydiving game. So is falling at the rate of 100 miles per hour on the first 10,000 feet of her journey.

Former Socialite Is Happy With Dress Shop In Mexico

By JACK RUTLEDGE
ACAPULCO, Mex. (AP)—A year after moving from the Gay White Way of New York to this lazy tropical resort, Sloan Simpson says:

"I am grateful to Providence and to Mexico for letting me live in Acapulco, which must be the anteroom to heaven."

She is the former wife of William O'Dwyer, who was once mayor of New York and once ambassador to Mexico. But Miss Simpson was a television and theatrical star in her own right and is doing well as a working gal in Acapulco.

UNOFFICIALLY ENGAGED
Friends say she's also unofficially engaged to Ken Morgan of Hollywood, public relations director for Desilu Productions. He spent his 1961 vacation and the Christmas holidays here, and visits frequently.

Friends say they're not in a hurry to get married—both are divorced—but are known as a couple here. It's always Sloan and Ken at parties.

Sloan Simpson moved to Acapulco Dec. 23, 1960, and opened a women's clothing shop in a swank hotel. It has been a success, and she's planning a second shop in the downtown area.

HARD WORKER
"People want to buy from Sloan," says an American here. "She has a big following from the East. And she's the hardest worker in Acapulco."

"Everyone told me I was crazy to go to Acapulco to live and work, that I'd get bored in two weeks," she writes in a guest column in a Mexico City newspaper. "They said working in Acapulco would be totally different from vacationing there, that I couldn't stand the climate all year. I'd miss the city, the theater, my friends, and most of all the summer would be impossible."

Nuts, she says. "When one is managing a shop in a top-flight hotel in Acapulco, if one is designing and manufacturing the clothes for that shop as well as starting a small export business to take up the slack in the slow season, and about to open another shop—when does one have time to get bored?"

SHE'S SOLD
She admits that "working anywhere is not my idea of the ideal way to pass the time, but as long as one must work, it is a blessing to enjoy what one is doing."

She says the summers here are really her favorite time of year. She says this "stuns my Mexican friends." She blames them for "giving a black eye to Acapulco's summertime weather."

Compared with the suffocating heat and humidity of New York, Washington, or the New Jersey shore, she says, Acapulco is a paradise in summer.

"It is true that this paradise slows down the tempo of the worker

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Absolute silence doesn't help you to work better, it's distracting. Psychiatrists have found most people's mental powers are at a peak against a background of soft music.

But that is no endorsement of the plea by teenagers that they can't do their homework except while listening to rock 'n' roll records.

Economists say that in the last 40 years Americans have used up more material resources than the rest of the world's population did in the previous 4,000 years.

WHIFF OF OXYGEN

Some Parisian restaurants now offer diners a whiff of oxygen as an appetizer. Our night club comics might copy the idea by dispensing a little laughing gas to their gag-jaded patrons.

A study found women purchase about half of U.S. shoes, children a fourth—and men only about a fifth.

It is getting easier to get a close shave while riding in Manhattan taxicabs. Several cab drivers have installed electric razors for the convenience of passengers.

Our quotable notables: "There is no reason why any child should lack a complete knowledge of life since there is no censorship of drugstore windows"—Don Herold.

Sign in a public library: "No children aloud."

The National Institute of Dry Cleaning lists the average life expectancy of straw hats, neckties and women's panties at a year; bathing suits and men's gloves at two years; suits, three to four years; men's overcoats four years, and women's fur coats 10 years. I still have several neckties bought before the second World War.

Wise crack of the week: "Most American families," says Walter Slezak, "begin the month by balancing the budget—and end it by trying to budget the balance."

It takes up to 12 times as much distance to stop a car on ice or slippery snow as it does on a dry pavement.

Worth remembering: "Forty is the age when men begin to want a change of pace—and women a change of face."

It was Kin Hubbard who observed, "A rich grandmother never gets in the way."

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Congregations planning to build new churches are advised by Paul M. Johnson, Southern Baptist architectural supervisor, to include in the plans a radioactive fallout shelter. He said an attack might occur during worship services. Also, he said, churches frequently are used as hospital centers in disaster areas.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

The Gettysburg Times presents today a page of illustrations showing the "before" and "after" presentation of eight business places which have joined the "Campaign Gettysburg" to "restore the historic image of Gettysburg." Some businessmen have completed work on their stores, others are in the process of doing so and still others plan to start work when the weather is warmer. (Photos by Lane)

SOCIAL RAMBLE IN INDIA HAS BLOSSOMED BIG

By JIM BECKER
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The celebrated baseball pitcher Satchel Paige once delivered the sage advice, "Avoid the social ramble — it ain't restful."

Satchel should give New Delhi a wide berth.

Perhaps more than any other world capital, the "social ramble" in New Delhi is something fierce.

To begin with, there are national days. Neutral India recognizes almost all of the members of the United Nations, and a lot of non-members, such as North Korea and East Germany, have trade delegations here that are almost the same as embassies.

MOST CELEBRATE
All these countries have national days and most feel compelled to celebrate them with receptions.

That takes care of about a third of the evenings in a year, right there.

Another apparent essential of New Delhi life is the reception for a visiting dignitary — and India never lacks for dignitaries. They trek through here in a never-ending stream, bent on seeing the nation's two leading tourist attractions, the Taj Mahal and Prime Minister Nehru.

The guest lists at these various receptions — which are at the rate of three or four a night when the season is in full swing — are very, very similar. Since New Delhi's big industry is government, the various government and diplomatic officials all invite each other.

GO TO RECEPTIONS
Another reason why New Delhi can claim the reception championship of the world is its prohibition.

There are no bars in New Delhi. Restaurants cannot serve liquor with meals. So people entertain at home and, after they get tired of that, they go to receptions.

The bottle lid is always off there.

Gangs of waiters carry trays laden with glasses with a generous helping of whiskey (always Scotch in British-trained India). Behind each of these waiters is another with a pitcher of water in one hand and a pitcher of soda in the other.

NO ICE
Ice is almost unheard of, even at American functions.

Other waiters pass around fruit juice for the benefit of Indians and people from Arab nations, most of whom do not drink alcoholic beverages, and a few foreigners whose livers have deserted them.

Canapes may vary according to the country playing host, but the liquid ritual is as unchanging as the guest list.

And the parties go on, monsoon or shine. When it rains, which is all the time from July to September, the guests swelter together inside the houses. The rest of the year they wander about on spacious lawns.

Usually they just talk about how awful it is to have to go to so many receptions.

Professional chefs usually like to use a high temperature (450 degrees) for baking pastry shells.

SPINNER OR SPOON?

BALTIMORE (AP) — Arthur Nattans Sr. is one of the few golfers to come home with a creel of fish. Nattans was playing the 13th hole at Suburban Club when his caddie saw some carp working in a shallow water hole nearby. Nattans, using a golf club, worked some of the carp of several pounds each to the shore. He gave a few to the caddie, gave one to a friend and took one home.

BOSTON (AP) — Rudy York, Red Sox batting coach, makes a good point about baseball stars. A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

AGING LINES. A mature lovely writes: My mouth is enclosed in parentheses—(). The lines are deep and curve from my nose to below my lipline. This punctuation emphasizes the aging story of my face. Can it be softened?

The answer (and for all women with the problem) comes in three parts:

One, keep the skin pliable. For the purpose, use a rich lubricating cream or lotion at bedtime. Pat it on and massage it in with light upward and outward strokes. If the skin is exceptionally dry, wear a moisturized powder base or a moisture lotion during the day.

Two, firm up the muscles via this exercise: Holding the head erect, fill the cheeks with air—blow them up like a balloon. Now force all the air to the right cheek; then to the left cheek. Continue for 20 counts, working slowly and deliberately.

Three, camouflage the problem. At make up time, simply fill in the lines with a very light shade of spot stick or a white liquid foundation. For the most natural effect, apply either one with a well-pointed cosmetic brush. The art work goes undetected, once you have topped it with your usual tinted foundation and powder. And the lines seem to have vanished.

Please note, however, that no cover-up measure can solve the problem. To actually soften the lines, you must be faithful to the skin-care and exercise routines.

PAINLESS REDUCING

To lose up to 10 pounds without a struggle, send for my leaflet, "PAINLESS REDUCING." No rigid dieting, no heavy exercising, no discomfort! All advice sane, safe, easy-to-take and effective. Address your request to me: A Lovelier You, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a LARGE, SELF-ADDRESSED, STAMPED ENVELOPE and five cents in coin!

CINCINNATI (AP) — A prominent Cincinnati obstetrician says he has a simple rule for predicting early in pregnancy whether a woman will have a boy or girl.

The physician, who declines use of his name to avoid a possible professional hubbub, says he notes the shape of the abdomen of the mother-to-be. If it's shaped like a football, he says, it's going to be a girl. If it looks like a basketball, the baby will be a boy. It works most of the time, he contends.

Nationwide Puts Life Insurance Within the Reach of Every Family

Quantity Discounts, Bigger Dividends Help Lower Costs

Among Nationwide's most popular features are (a) "quantity discounts," which progressively lower premiums on each $1,000 of life insurance over $4,000, and (b) increased dividends.

In addition to early cash and loan values, young family men particularly like our Guaranteed Insurability Option. This assures the right to buy additional insurance later on, without medical examination, regardless of health.

Also available as optional extras are Double Indemnity, which doubles a policy's face amount in the event of accidental death, and Disability Waiver of Premium, which cancels premiums falling due after a policyholder has been disabled by accident or illness for six months.

With every Nationwide policy you have a broad selection of settlement options. Many of these allow benefits or cash values to be paid in a choice of annuity-type installments.

The above features, and many more, guarantee you extra value through flexibility that lets your life insurance keep up-to-date with your changing needs and plans.

Your Nationwide agent, a neighbor in your community, is always at your service. He'll review your insurance program with you regularly to make sure its provisions always match your requirements.

Every family now can afford enough life insurance—thanks to Nationwide. Even fathers who think they're "insurance poor" will benefit from a talk with a Nationwide agent. His skill and experience, his interest in serving you best, and his complete range of modern coverages, will mean more protection and added savings for you.

Nationwide Life Insurance Plans Are Designed to Meet Every Need

Whatever your age, earnings and family circumstances, your Nationwide agent will recommend the plan—or combination of plans—that will do the best job for you. Here are just a few of the new Nationwide coverages offered:

For Young Families

For young fathers with limited budgets there's the MODIFIED 3 TO 10 PLAN. Especially designed for the "getting started" years, it offers sharply reduced premiums during the plan's first 10 years. Later, regular premiums are offset by higher dividends and accumulated cash values.

Also for young family men is Nationwide's FAMILY INCOME PLAN, which provides maximum protection during children's dependent years. Then, after the children are grown, your basic protection continues, but at a lower premium.

Many families, too, prefer the savings offered by Nationwide's all-in-one FAMILY POLICY, which insures all the family in a single plan. Dad has the greatest protection, while Mom and the youngsters are insured for smaller amounts.

For New Homeowners

For the homeowner, there's the low-premium MORTGAGE PROTECTION plan. Its face amount decreases gradually year-by-year, along with your mortgage—but there's always enough insurance to cover your unpaid balance.

Your Nationwide man is also equipped with a full line of streamlined ORDINARY (or WHOLE) LIFE and ENDOWMENT plans, which provide permanent protection plus cash values you may use at retirement. He also offers a choice of low cost TERM (or TEMPORARY) insurance plans, which may be converted later to a permanent plan without medical examination.

Full details on all Nationwide plans are available through your local Nationwide agent. He has only one purpose: to provide you with the best protection at the lowest possible cost.

Your Nationwide Agent

Your neighborhood Nationwide representative is fully licensed under the insurance laws of your state. This means that his qualifications to serve you have been thoroughly examined and approved. In addition, his knowledge of life insurance and how it may best work for you is continually expanded through systematic training and refresher courses by Nationwide. Thus, you'll always find him a sound businessman and a valuable friend—and you may talk with him as you would your family doctor.

Progressive Organization Offers Complete New Choice Of Budget-Priced Policies

In keeping with its principle of providing the finest protection at the lowest possible cost, Nationwide Insurance recently streamlined its entire life insurance portfolio. The best features of standard policies have been retained, the range and scope of coverages broadened, new policies developed and set in a rate structure second to none within the insurance industry.

Greater Values and Savings

Result? Budget-conscious families can now buy more of the protection today's cost-of-living demands. Young fathers can now afford the insurance they need during the family's growing years. Today, through Nationwide, you can choose a plan which matches your exact requirements and your resources. Whether it's maximum coverage at lowest cost, systematic savings at a guaranteed rate of interest, or a realistic combination of protection and savings, your Nationwide agent has a plan for you. Every family can now have the vital protection they need while they save for retirement.

Nationwide Widely Known As A Company That's Different

Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide's President, is often asked, "What's so different about Nationwide?" His reply usually begins, "Nothing much...if all you want is a company that collects premiums and has the resources to pay claims."

"But," he hastily adds, "if you're looking for something more—the satisfaction, say, of knowing that your premiums are buying insurance designed to protect real people rather than statistics...or if you think it's a healthy idea for policyholders to have a real voice in their company's operation—then Nationwide is different."

"This organization was started thirty-five years ago by people in search of low-cost insurance. We grew, expanded our coverages, were invited into neighboring states, because our kind of insurance was needed."

"Nationwide continues to build on the fundamental principle that whenever we're confronted with new problems, all of us, working together, can find new and better solutions to these problems."

Expert Assistance Available

Nationwide also offers you—at no charge or obligation—the professional services of highly trained, experienced insurance agents. Since your local Nationwide agent offers a complete range of insurance products, he can recommend the life insurance policy which best fits your total protection picture. He can provide you with a coordinated, all-around protection program, with no dangerous gaps or costly overlaps, no needless waste or extras...all at minimum cost!

For full details, call your nearest Nationwide representative. He's listed in the "Insurance" section of your Yellow Pages.

Outstanding Values In Business Life Insurance

More and more executives, too, are selecting Nationwide plans for their companies' business life insurance coverage—including key man, sole proprietorship, partnership, and close corporation insurance. Individual-policy pension trust plans are also offered.

Especially advantageous to businessmen is Nationwide's Executive Equity Plan, which features rapidly accumulating cash values resulting in minimum net cost to the purchaser.

A complete range of flexible, low-cost plans is also offered on a group basis, customarily combined with group health coverage in a complete employee benefit program, often partnered with a funded retirement or pension program. Featured among Nationwide's Group coverages are those especially designed for smaller organizations. Available in most states are: MINIGROUP, a top-benefit plan for firms having 10-49 employees, and EFP (EMPLOYEE FAMILY PLAN), a "big company" employee-and-dependents program for groups as small as three.

Also noteworthy is our small-company Retirement Security Plan (RSP), which can provide stockholder-employees with up to $96,000 cash—or $670 per month—at retirement, with all rates and benefits guaranteed for life.

All Nationwide agents are authorized to offer business life insurance protection, and all are backed by experienced Nationwide technical specialists, both at the Home Office and in the field.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE SPEAR FAMILY OF MARSH CREEK

In writing of Conococheague and Marsh Creek families and the many intermarriages that bound the two together, mention must be made of the family of James Buchanan, the 15th President of the United States. President Buchanan had many blood ties in what is now Adams County — not only through his mother's family but through his father as well. It will be recalled that when James Buchanan, Senior, first came to America, after the War of the Revolution, he lived for "a time" at the home of his maternal uncle, Joshua Russell, "mine host" at the old Russell Tavern — now known as the "Carey House." Both Joshua Russell and his wife, Jennet, are buried in the Upper Marsh Creek Graveyard, more commonly known as

"Black's." James Speer (Speer) was an early settler in the Marsh Creek Settlement and his daughter, Elizabeth Speer, was born in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania. After her marriage to the young James Buchanan, Elizabeth Speer went, as a bride, to the home her husband had established "in the Gap" — across the Blue Ridge, above Mercersburg. Here all of the Buchanan children were born — including the future President of the United States.

WAS WELL READ

According to the historians Elizabeth (Speer) Buchanan "was an excellent woman and quite well-read considering the conditions under which she was born and reared. Her son, James Buchanan (second of the name) considered her influence the mainspring of his life and his
